

The Throwable Microphone For Audience Engagement

Catchbox is the world's first soft wireless microphone that you can throw into an audience to kickstart discussion.

Catchbox improves lectures, conferences, and group work by encouraging audiences to share ideas and discuss issues.

Engage Your Audience!

Getting your audience involved can be difficult. Normal microphones are often slow and cumbersome to pass around and can quickly kill the flow. That's what led to the creation of Catchbox. The colourful box is intuitive to use and throwing it around engages audience members and breaks the ice. It gets people to talk and share ideas and can be used in many different types of events from conferences to lectures.
